

Are you looking for a career change (or just looking for a career) and like the idea of taking control of your income earning potential?

If the answer is YES then Mortgage Broking is something worth looking into. You can set your own parameters around how you work, who you work with and where you spend your time developing your business.

Mortgage Broking is now recognised as a genuine profession where you not only get the opportunity to develop lifelong relationships, but you are also generously rewarded for the quality work you produce with upfront and ongoing trail commissions.

If you can readily connect and enjoy engaging with people and like the idea of working for yourself, then mortgage broking could be for you. And, as a leading Victorian aggregation group with proven and recognised training and network building capabilities, Loans Actually is worth plenty of consideration.

What can you expect as a Mortgage Broker under Loans Actually?

- Fantastic Income Earning Potential
- The chance to work your own hours as a qualified and licensed industry professional
- Control of your future
- Full support and training by experienced brokers, mentors and coaches

Working as your own boss you are continually building a profitable business with the potential to earn a $120k + annual income without running yourself into the ground. It's a great industry and the costs to operate your business are not exorbitant.

There is no requirement of a banking or customer service background, but you do need to be able to prioritise and maintain an organised lifestyle.

Learn about the huge opportunities available and how you can set yourself up financially for the future at our Mortgage Broking Transition Seminars.

We'll talk about how:

- the mortgage broking industry came about
- licensing has changed and "professionalised" the industry
- you have commission earning potential that sets us apart from other industries
- security of your commissions is paramount
- there is enormous potential to grow your business
- it is Your lifestyle - Your choice
- we can help you make a smooth transition to mortgage broking through the Loans Actually Broker Development Program
- and much more

Loans Actually has been investing in our brokers on-going development since 2004 and our newly upgraded Loans Actually Broker Development Program can also help you transition into the industry, working more profitably than ever before.

Sit in on our next Career Change – Mortgage Broking Transition Seminar, it will help make your decision that much clearer!

Contact us to find out when the next seminar is being presented in your area.

For further information about this opportunity please contact Glenn McKissack on 03 8805 1850 or contact us through our website.